

Under my eyes
Under my clothes of basest cloth
Under the impression of what's no longer there
Under my power
Under what's nothing at all anymore
Under Heaven and under the ground I stare

Under your sea
Under the water of your words
Under attack by the struggling will to live
Under your scalp
Under the rest after a burst
Under my spell I've nothing more to give
