

I awoke into this world unknowing the path I'd take
Live and learn is what they say
Growing up in a world of disgust has taught me how to hate
Fear, pain, greed and lies, this is not my fate

Realize that no one can hold me back
Real eyes will see the truth
Realize that no one can change my mind
Real eyes will see the truth

Haunted by the tribulations, the trials that form my pain
How do I live a life in a world of death
Push my hate aside and realize who I am
I must be more than a man

I always dream of waking up
Far from the world we know
It's all complicated
I am so frustrated

Right now I feel encaged, trapped and I can't escape
Right now I feel like a rat inside a maze

It's time for us to figure out where we stand
Each aura reveals true nature inside us

It's so easy to get lost inside this world
I'm trapped and I must break free
I need to escape to find, escape to find myself

I always dream of waking up
Far from the world we know
It's all complicated
I am so frustrated

Right now I feel encaged, trapped and I can't escape
Right now I feel like a rat inside a maze

If we could realize life has more to give
Not collecting our materials, and fighting 'til the end
Wake up now and release somehow, find the truth within
Place the judgment upon yourself, find a better way to live
