

Disposition

Threat Signal

Raise your fist to the sky and show your pride

I am not divine I'm not heavenly
I seek to find the truth
I search for reason, for ecstasy
To face myself and face the world until I'm through
Time to wake up and fucking realize this is not a game
Your sacrilegious tunnel vision will not resolve the hate I despise
The hate I despise

I will sever my past today
I will not be judged for sins of yesterday
If all the shadows of light would come together unite

Control, this world - remove the faith in my eyes
Destroy, kill all - I'm not afraid to die

I will sever my past today
I will not be judged for sins of yesterday
If all the shadows of light would come together unite

I follow the path in my mind. I'll never retract
I choose my destiny, I'm never turning back

I can't ignore if all the pieces fit the light will show me the door
I will know when to rest my head until then I'll live life

Looking back upon my whole life
I realize I regret nothing
Every choice that I have made
Generates my life my love and all my pain
All my pain
