

Falling Apart

Threat Signal

I am lost, I fell apart from the world, the world as I knew it
I never thought I'd be the one to endure, frustration and misery

I see your body laying still
Waiting to wake up from this nightmare
It's killing me

There's nothing that I can say
I'm falling apart
There's nothing that I can do
I will see you in the end

I'll never stop, reminiscing your life, and the times we had
I always thought, I'd be right by your side, not until the grave

I see your body laying still
Waiting to wake up from this nightmare
It's killing me

There's nothing that I can say
I'm falling apart
There's nothing that I can do
I will see you in the end

Don't ever regret your life and the choices you could have made
Take a chance in the game of life
Don't settle for less
I was lost but now I'm found
You could die tomorrow

I will see you again when I die
I will feel you again in my life

There's nothing that I can say
I'm falling apart
There's nothing that I can do
I will see you in the end
There's nothing that I could say
I'm falling apart
There's nothing that I could do
To save you now
