

Trust In None

Threat Signal

Dislocate the enemies from your life
Remove all the hatred
Never trust in anyone, save yourself
Control is not lost

You choose the path you're on
Despite the reason
And I will never be held down

You live to feed, you serve for greed
Is that all you desire?
You fail yourself and no one else
You are prone for disaster

See through the prophecies and regain the faith you hide
You're just a slave, a victim; another machine inside

We are not the same
We will never be the same

You choose the path you're on
Despite the reason
And I will never be held down

You live to feed, you serve for greed
Is that all you desire?
You fail yourself and no one else
You are prone for disaster

Take control

I never trust in anyone
I never trust in anything
