

Suffocate our will to survive
Eliminate the choice and divide us
Dissolution, self-confusion
Fall into the absence of mind

As you run away, away from all your fear
We'll stand right here
As you fall away, away from us this year
We'll stand right here

Its not complicated the life you once lead
The demon is in your head
I felt suffocated like I'd reached the end
But now united we stand

Now we stand

As you run away, away from all your fear
We'll stand right here
As you fall away, away from us this year
We'll stand right here

How long will you defend, the path you've chosen, the life that you've thrown away

Take this life in our hands, united we stand, this world become s what we make it Take this life in our hands, united we stand, this world will b ecome what we make it
