

Skin

Three Years Hollow

Is it enough to take something from me
And run like you never want it to be?
It's time to listen to what I say
You're mine
Show me the way you taste
Show me one last time
It's such a waste
Throwing your life away

Everytime you get under my skin
I feel like my life's slowly creeping in
I'm watching myself bleed in your arms

Was this your wish?
Did you want it to end like this?
I know they say you're better on your own
Give it away inside, you think that they were wrong
Taking away your life
Show me the way you taste
Show me one last time
It's such a waste
Throwing your life away
