

Wasted

Three Years Hollow

Make up your mind
Make it up as you run
You'll never be what you want to become
I wonder why you wait
There's never been a better time
You know you're on the outside

It's all right
I'm wasting my life away
You're always changing your mind on me
You become the enemy
When you live this way

If you breathe in this time
You watch it fade away
I know I'll be there some day
I'm sick of all the hate
Burning red inside your eyes
It's like you've become blind
I wait so long
I'll take you back to a time
When you were on the inside

It's all right
I'm wasting my life away
You're always changing your mind on me
You become the enemy
When you live this way
