

Watchtower On The Moon

Threshold

You've followed and you've led
You've fought until you've bled
You've sought and now you've fled
So what you gonna do now

You've ushered in the rain
Seen new life come again
But doubting still remains
So what you gonna do now

You're trying so hard
Did you find what you're looking for
A glass roof or an open door
You're hurting yourself and everyone else
Tell me who's gonna stand
With the fire of the foolish man
In tune with yourself but nobody else

There is always bad to find
So push it from your mind
And let it all unwind

Your watchtower on the moon
Won't help you see the view
Of all that's coming soon
So what you gonna do now

And character's what glows
When no one wants to know
But still you choose to grow
So what you gonna do now

You're trying so hard
Did you find what you're looking for
A glass roof or an open door
You're hurting yourself and everyone else
Tell me who's gonna stand
With the fire of the foolish man
In tune with yourself but nobody else

There is always bad to find
So push it from your mind
And let it all unwind

You're trying so hard
Did you find what you're looking for
A glass roof or an open door
You're hurting yourself and everyone else
Tell me who's gonna stand
With the fire of the foolish man
In tune with yourself but nobody else

You're hurting yourself and everyone else
In tune with yourself but nobody else
