Music Box

we move for all mankind, a million miles from everything we've ever known and we're on their hearts and minds, a million heads are bowed to bring us safely home hemmed in by emptiness, a million ways that everything could be undone this hollow in my chest is filled with reasons not to sing but I found one, I know

in sleep we saw ourselves, a million years we had been waiting there it seems while someone weaves a spell, a million stars look on in witnes s to our dreams, I know

we feel an unseen love we are children of light

stand ready and tall, reflect the light
