

Almost A Kiss

Throbbing Gristle

Whenever I see you in my eyes whenever I love you I realize whenever you're lost again try to hold me
say you are my friend

I see you lying there
I know you'd never care

almost a kiss
almost a kiss
almost like this
almost a kiss
almost like this
almost a kiss

And I see you as a hidden fire the object of someone else's desire you're a lost dove
looking down from above you fit me like a shrunken glove

almost a kiss
almost a kiss
almost like this

And i'm lost one more time i really want to climb back and never let me go
never tell me it isn't so

almost a kiss
almost a kiss
almost like this

I'm lost anyway
one more time who cares?
I'm not counting any day
and you run away
from my eyes
I'd know why I realize
can I see you
one more time
can I love you
will you be mine
we changed the story
you tried to tell me its mystery but I know what we have is someone else's history
someone else's history
