

The Blackened Rainbow

Throes Of Dawn

Rain falls black from the skies gray as tears they fell from the throne of the Almighty...Cosmos

Beholding a star that has been lit above me I fall before its beauty
In this rainraped evening the unknown stars shone to me the Ominous starlight creates a vision of a blackened rainbow
By the ecstasy of mystic rainbow all veils open to me

I saw the blasphemy - in natures purity
I heard the blasphemy - in the birds singing

With heavenly tone over lakes and the seas wherever there a heartbeat is

"Follow the blackened rainbow to its end
You will never wake to the sunrise in heaven"

You will never see heaven.
