

Falling Fast

Throw The Fight

Nobody's searching
If anyone's looking it's not for you
Because you're not perfect
And you never will be in anyone's view
How many times now
Have we seen the great ones get over looked
It might be your turn, too
Right from the package of this work

[Chorus:]
But now the door is closing
Can you prove that you're not broken
So many chances
Well swept away from you
But now is the time for you
To prove

Now everyone's searching
For someone that never had a second glance
They're out with the old now
And waiting for someone to take up the chance
Times are all near now
Competitors looking to take your place
And confidence building
And you won't let anyone stand in your way

[Chorus x3]
