

Face the Mirror

Throwdown

another conversation. trying to tear me down. face the mirror.
face yourself.
never wanted to be a preacher. never judge but to myself. face the mirror.
face yourself. i can't help your insecurity. you've got conflicts to kill.
i know who i am and i believe in what i say. there's nothing but hate for those who mock what i say and still hide their fucking face. hate for those who mock me. face yourself.
