Saving Grace

Throwing Muses

So we drive and we've driven 10,000 miles In our hometown Sink back into the driveway Which is Zen

The head in the stairs
Or the body in the chair?
A Saving Grace at odds with technology
A Saving Grace

18 with a bottle of water Cold jeans and the face of Gibraltar How many trunks of your goods? How many goods do you give away?

I'm spellbound when I can't move
I stand in front of you
I'm flipping back through the pages of
Your calandar and your books
And your childhood and your looks

I try to move in your direction
Against the grain of time
I'm hoping to recollect my thoughts and motions
I pray to science and history
Like cancer doesn't grow

I worship and forget you Bye Worship and forget you A Saving Grace

And holding on to what we've made As it drags us by the legs Across the living room Put the children to bed For a good night For tomorrow
