

Frozen Kingdom

Thulcandra

I wander down the fields of darkness
All around is cold and bleak

My breath is frozen, I see no light
The sun has fallen from blood red skies
An endless night embraces my soul
Abandoned, forsaken, all hope is gone

I kneel down on the pale white ground
Death is my sole desire,
I'm yearning for the end

Enshrouded by the night
A lifeless heart in a frozen world
Dissolution, demise
Frozen kingdom in eternity

My body's shaking, my blood is congealed
Life will perish in this never ending void

As the night intrudes my frozen flesh
I feel no pain, no agony, no fear
My life's consumed by the spirits of the night
As I enter the realm all sorrow is gone
