

I'm Dreaming Again

Thunder

Cold water eyes, blue as cartoon skies I can't forget
She was everything, part of who I am, my one big regret Cos it's over now, but a part of me's still waiting
Though I couldn't tell you why

When I feel the touch of your hand, but there's no-one around
I know that I'm dreaming
When I wake up to find it's only me and the night
I know that I'm dreaming again

Oh woah.

I see your face in a crowded place, time after time and I take it hard, cos it's just my heart playing tricks on my mind
Cos it's over now
But there no use complaining
I've only got myself to blame

When I get the feeling you're near, but there's nobody here
I know that I'm dreaming
And when you call out my name, like a ghost in my brain
I know that I'm dreaming again

Oh, woah

Cos it's over now, and there ain't no use complaining
I've only got myself to blame

When I feel the touch of your hand, but there's no-one
I know that I'm dreaming
When I wake up to find it's only me and the night
I know that I'm dreaming again

I know that I'm dreaming

When you call out my name, like a ghost in my brain
I know that I'm dreaming again

I must be dreaming
I feel you cal out my name
