

Another Time

Thunderstone

Another morning, another day
Another sunset is on it's way
Another cold and sleepless night, another restless soul
Another sorrow, another fear
Another smile turns to a tear
Another undefined feeling takes over again

Do you believe?... That you can pull the strings
together
Do you believe?... That you can finally find your way
Do you believe?... That you can lead your own life
Do you believe?

Another life, another death
Another birth without as breath
Another candle lights another dies away
Another peace, another war
Another cause to fight for Another reason to stay here, or maybe another time?

Do you believe?... That you can pull the strings
together
Do you believe?... That you can finally find your way
Do you believe?... That you can lead your own life
Do you believe?

The way you live
You take before you give You'll pay the price
You'll pay it once or twice
Before you learn
You'll have to take your turn
Don't wait for another time

Another morning, another day
Another sunrise is on it's way
Another night, silent and peaceful
