Eyes of a Stranger

Thunderstone

Eyes of a stranger are watching me Haunting my every single move I feel like a victim with no reason why Still there is no fear at all

I feel you, I hear you when you're not around Presence so powerful, confusing me
But now I am here all alone with you

Take a look behind and just realize
There's a stranger watching all of us
When you think you're alone, unprepared and so down
You might feel the eyes of a stranger

Protecting and leading my steps through the life Guiding my way in this world of fears
Sometimes I'm lost and I'm so afraid
It's hard to find my way out by myself

I feel you, I hear you when you're not around Presence so powerful, confusing me Now I am here all alone with you

Take a look behind and just realize
There's a stranger watching all of us
When you think you're alone, unprepared and so down
You might feel the eyes of a stranger

Take a look behind and just realize
There's a stranger watching all of us
When you think you're alone, unprepared and so down
You might feel the eyes of a stranger

Take a look behind and just realize
There's a stranger watching all of us
When you think you're alone, unprepared and so down
You might feel the eyes of a stranger
