

I Almighty

Thunderstone

Living, no giving, no passion at all
Watching the days going by
Wasting the moments, ignoring the life
Blindfolded and chained by the lie

I - the almighty god of it all
I'll never surrender
I - I'm always surviving the fall

Like the lightning in the sky
Flying through the night
Giving me the power
I need to be right
Holding my heart
And never letting go
You're the vision of my life
I'll be standing by your side
Showing the light on your way
And you're holding my heart
Holding forever and forevermore

I throw myself into the eye of the storm
I'll be washed away with the rain
So many years i've been fighting it back
Now I'm ready to leave it in vain

I - the almighty god of it all
I'll never surrender
I - I'm always surviving the fall

Like the lightning in the sky
Flying through the night
Giving me the power
I need to be right
Holding my heart
And never letting go
You're the vision of my life
I'll be standing by your side
Showing the light on your way
And you're holding my heart
Holding forever and forevermore

I locked all the doors and tossed the key
Into the darkness, into the sea
I tried to get back all the things that I've lost
But in the end I had to pay all the costs

You're the vision of my life
I'll be standing by your side

Like the lightning in the sky
Flying through the night
Giving me the power
I need to be right
Holding my heart
And never letting go
You're the vision of my life

I'll be standing by your side
Showing the light on your way
And you're holding my heart
Holding forever and forevermore
