

I Will Come Again

Thunderstone

Here again all by myself I'm pounding it all I can't recall those years before, before when I stood tall
The days of glory in the past, haunting evermore
The vision and the final dream are still behind the door
Searching for the righteous course, I'm lost without a light
I need a sign, I need it now, I'll never give up without a fight

I will come again
With the power of my will
I have seen the eyes of this world and I have seen it's thrill
I will come again
Until then I'll get through
Destination still unknown
Direction straight ahead

The story goes on and on, it's time to turn page
I wish to find my final peace, without any rage
And suddenly I see it all, I'm not alone anymore I need to run but not to hide, I'm reaching for the door

I will come again
With the power of my will
I have seen the eyes of this world and I have seen it's
thrill
I will come again
Until then I'll get through
Direction straight ahead
