

Liquid of the Kings

Thunderstone

The sound of a screaming hound
Howling in my ears
Black visions from yesterday
Feeling all my fears
Another vicious night behind
I can't recall a thing
I've sunken down again into
The liquid of the kings

Trying to clear things out
Trying to get my life back on track again

Breathing hard, it feels like
My heart is bursting out
Makes me crazy, a hit insane
So I just scream and shout
Every single time gets worse
Will I ever learn?
'coz when it's time to choose the way
I take a fatal turn

Trying to clear things out
Trying to get my life back on track again

Time after time I fall down
Into the depths of my mind
Searching my way out from this endless circle
And time after time I climb up again
On the highest spire
I'm on my way, on my journey into darkness

Burning life fuel far too fast
Driven by addiction
This ride is getting frightening
Feels like a bad prediction
Mayhem, confusion, I'm under attack
The one who's calling my name
Knows that I'll be back

Trying to clear things out
Trying to get my life back on track again

Time after time I fall down
Into the depths of my mind
Searching my way out from this endless circle
And time after time I climb up again
On the highest spire
I'm on my way, on my journey into darkness
