

Without Wings

Thunderstone

The blood in my head burns like fire
And madness is raising it's head
Surviving, the deepest desire?
Or just an obsession instead?
I feel the pain when I see the rain
I don't have the power I need
I'm locked inside in my head and my mind
It's time to give up and concede

Without wings, I cannot fly
I'll never reach the sky above
Is this the way, the place I'll stay?
Will I be trapped forevermore?

The weight of the world on my shoulders
It's crushing my humanity
Longer I go and get older
I embrace my insanity
And now I can see, what's inside of me
Ignorance is not a virtue
I sense and I feel, frustration so real
Or is it just fake and untrue?

Without wings, I cannot fly
I'll never reach the sky above
Is this the way, the place I'll stay?
Will I be trapped forevermore?

The blood in my head burns like fire
And madness is still in my head
Life, the deepest desire?
Or just an obsession instead?
But now I can see,
what's inside of me
Ignorance is a virtue?
I sense and I feel, frustration so real
Or is it just fake and untrue?

Without wings, I cannot fly
I'll never reach the sky above
Is this the way, the place I'll stay?
Will I be trapped forevermore?
