

End of the Days

Thy Majestie

Can you see those walls
over the mountains?
By their stones you've made your dreams come true
The end of the days

And you fear you'll lose it all

Show me the way
To preserve my life
To rule my reign in peace for evermore
Only your power
Can make me immortal
Do it or I'll reap your soul!

I want to see my prize
I'm a deity and this is why
I cannot leave this life
I've got a dream to keep alive

I need your answer
Wise master of the spells:
"Do I live in a prison of lies?"

You implore me
To break the silence
But no words can stop the end

I want to see my prize
I'm a deity and this is why
I cannot leave this life
I've got a dream to keep alive

All the lands are unified
Under the same sky

Watch the kingdom I created
It will never die

I finally understand
I don't care about my life anymore
I lived for this kingdom
I will die for it

Now I perceive my prize
I'm a deity and this is why
Now I can leave this life
Knowing that my dream's alive

I'm going to see my light
I can see my past with pride
My name will be undying
Shi Huangdi will never die
