

Ride to Chinon

Thy Majestie

Dressing male clothing, she took
The way to Auxerre
To reach the city of Chinon for will of the Lord

Riding with fear in the heart
She followed the Signs
To find the strength to dare the English domain

□There is no other king. Now retake your reign...□

The noble Dauphin awaits in the chamber the moment to meet her
With heart full of doubt
But he hopes the Maiden can be the last chance for the war

A Virgin of steel with humility and pride
The mission in her mind
She said: □My name is Joan, I come for the Lord!□

□There is no other king. Now retake your kingdom□

□You have the claim for this Land
The Maiden has come to give you her faith
Fighting it will be the only way I□ll give you
Thy words to strengthen your mind and your soul
You have the claim to take the crown of France
And to give the freedom to our lands
Fighting it will be the only way I□ll give you
