Music: Giuseppe Bondi Lyrics: Claudio Diprima

When the sun will stop to shine over the magical land of Dury Freedom and joy will disappear an age of darkness behind the fog

All around silence and death, life in these lands will be no mo re

The sound of the troops dispels in the night, gnomes and troll's armies not now so far

Together, now allies, opposed before, no wish, no love, no hono ur in their hearts

Power of mind makes them slaves no one can stop them now but the Holy Sword

Sword of Justice, power of mind, into your hand shines again Blood of the heroes, magical fire, into your veins burns again

Sword of Justice, power of mind, into your hand shines again Blood of the heroes, magical fire, into your veins burns again

The memory of great war now is so far the threat of invasion re ality Now

No one can imagine the future events from valleys of shadow one Man comes to tell

"Exists the descendant of king of the elves, only this man can draw The Sword"

The blood of the elves runs in his vein now the four lands are calling his help

Young prince till now, a hero forever, forces of damned are loo king for him

Leave your castle leave your past, now the way to the sword beg

The night's your only friend the stars your only guide Only the magical stones by your side

Sword of Justice, power of mind, into your hand shines again Blood of the heroes, magical fire, into your veins burns again

Sword of Justice, power of mind, into your hand shines again Blood of the heroes, magical fire, into your veins burns again

Run across fields of fire your sword by your side The stars your only guide And you don't know why life is so strange and you

And you don't know why life is so strange and you are alone Facing the world fighting yourself

Sword of Justice, power of mind, into your hand shines again Blood of the heroes, magical fire, into your veins burns again

Sword of Justice, power of mind, into your hand shines again Blood of the heroes, magical fire, into your veins burns again