

Gotcha On The Run

Tiffany Alvord

You broke my heart so I'm taking it back
I'm keeping it for someone who's a real man
Get off of my porch, your sorry's don't work here
I cried, cried, cried but did you care

You're down on your knees when you should be running
You think this is a joke but heartbreak isn't funny
Don't you remember the last time we stood here
I cried, cried, cried but did you care

Oh, I got you on the run boy
I'm telling you I'm done boy
You should know by now
I won't take you back

Oh, I'm doing this for fun you see
After all you've done to me
You should know by now
I won't take you back

You're telling me stories that kinda sound exciting
Sounds like a movie that I'm never buying
About a stupid boy who promised to love me
I cried, cried, cried but I got nothing

Don't treat me like a kid, I'm no longer naive
After all the things you said, I'm not losing sleep
I'm better without you, I'm better without you
So cry, cry, cry if you want to

Oh, I got you on the run boy
I'm telling you I'm done boy
You should know by now
I won't take you back

Oh, I'm doing this for fun you see
After all you've done to me
You should know by now
I won't take you back

Run boy run, you should run boy run
Run boy run, you should run boy run
Run boy run, you should run boy run
Run boy run, you should run, run..

Oh, I got you on the run boy
I'm telling you I'm done boy
You should know by now
I won't take you back

Oh, I got you on the run boy
I'm telling you I'm done boy
You should know by now
I won't take you back

Oh, I'm doing this for fun you see
After all you've done to me

You should know by now
I won't take you back
No...
