

Silence

Tiffany Darwish

I got a feeling, everything's gonna be alright
I will find my way
And I heard, it's always darkest before the storm
So come on let it rain

Everything was different when I was seventeen
The world was so much brighter
Now I finally found the truth of what they hid for me
That world was so much kinder

Silence, don't hear a sound
But my own voice

Silence, is what it is
By my own choice

I believe that we were meant to learn from our mistakes
And stumble along the way
Now I know that people are gonna grab what they can take
Then just turn away

Everybody's searching but no one really knows the truth
The world is upside down
What it's all about right now will soon turn to gray
Their promises have faded

Silence
Silence

Silence don't hear a sound
But my own voice

Silence, don't hear a sound
But my own voice

Silence, is what it is
By my own choice

All my little merry friends have turned their backs on me
Excuse me if I'm jaded
I'm so tired of people telling me how it should be
Their promises have faded

Silence
Silence

Silence don't hear a sound
But my own voice

Silence, don't hear a sound
But my own voice

Silence, is what it is
By my own choice

Silence
