

Lois Lane

Tiffany Evans

Ay-hey, ay-hey
Ay-hey, ay-hey

You were the best at everything you do
You only come second in telling the truth
Fast enough to catch a speeding train
Brave enough to step right through a flame
But when it comes to love, babe
You lose, you lose

'Cause everytime I try to find a reason why
You just can't get it right for me
You give me stupid lies, you make me want to fly
You're powerless to me

'Cause I hate the way you're so good at saving the day
When it comes to me, you always come a second too late
While our love's going up, up, up and away
You won't save this Lois Lane, you won't save this Lois Lane

Ay-hey, ay-hey
You won't save this Lois Lane
Ay-hey, ay-hey
You won't save this Lois Lane

You're the smartest man that I know; yes, you are
The dumbest thing about you though, is you don't even have a heart
How could you leave me under?
I was your backbone when you pushed me down to my weakest
And baby, it's the last time
Last time

'Cause everytime I try to find a reason why
You just can't get it right for me
You give me stupid lies, you make me want to fly
You're powerless to me

I hate the way you're so good at saving the day
When it comes to me, you always come a second too late
While our love's going up, up, up and away
You won't save this Lois Lane, you won't save this Lois Lane

Ay-hey, ay-hey
You won't save this Lois Lane
Ay-hey, ay-hey
You won't save this Lois Lane

You always leave me hanging, yeah
When I need you the most Solving everybody's problems
Falling short of your own

And I hate the way you're so good at saving the day
When it comes to me, you always come a second too late
While our love's going up, up, up and away
You won't save this Lois Lane, you won't save this Lois Lane

Ay-hey, ay-hey
You won't save this Lois Lane
Ay-hey, ay-hey
You won't save this Lois Lane
