

No Average Angel

Giardina Tiffany

Stupid shows and blind ambition
Blowing up the television
Is your life a never ending video?
We're out of shoes and frappachinos
Gucci Bags and Valentinos
One hit wonders blaring from the stereo

Why are you fascinated?
I'll never be outdated
You think I'm less than perfect
But don't you know I'm more than enough?

You think you need the latest drama queen making a scene
An air-brushed model on the silver screen
Why can't you see?
I'm no average angel
I'm no average angel

I'm not in designer jeans
I don't need plastic surgery
And I don't really care who's in my own top 8
Won't trade my reality for anything that's on t.v.
No, not for all the bling that's on the VMA's

I'm not an imitation
Knock off, duplication
You think I'm less than perfect
But don't you know I'm more than enough?

You think you need the latest drama queen making a scene
An air-brushed model on the silver screen
Why can't you see?
I'm no average angel
I'm no average angel
I'm no average angel

I can't wait forever
Make it now or never
It's my precious time you're wasting,
Chasing something that's not real

You think you need the latest drama queen making a scene
An air-brushed model on the silver screen

You think you need the latest drama queen making a scene
An air-brushed model in a magazine
Why can't you see
I'm no average angel
I'm no average angel
I'm no average angel (why can't you see)
I'm no average angel
I'm no average angel
