

Dark and Lonely Night

Tiger Army

In the dark and lonely night, I gave my heart to you
Now I'm dreaming of a love, known only by we two
You didn't want my heart to keep, now our love's drifted away
And in shadows of the night, my heart it will remain

In the night- is where we met and...
In the night- is where we parted
In the night- is where we'll meet again, if only in my dreams

But the night is on my side, your thoughts will turn to me
In the moments you're alone, before you fall to sleep
You'll remember symphonies, gold splattered indigo
My heart orbits 'round the Earth, broadcasting love to you

Moonbeams pour into my window
And my love reflects back through
When you drift off to that other world
You'll find me waiting for you
