

A Partial Print

Tiger Lou

Cold as the water
The water where I was found
Risen from routine
Moving upstream
Without a sound
Closer to home
If home is the lasting claim
That living through the eyes
Of those you leave behind
Is how we all remain

Cold as the water
The water where I was found
Risen from routine
Moving upstream
Without a sound
Closer to home
If home is the lasting claim
That living through the eyes
Of those you leave behind
Is how we all remain

Sore eyes
All of the sore eyes
Piercing a hole
Through these walls of mine
Sore eyes
All of the sore eyes
Piercing a hole
Through these walls of mine
For a why

Wave your semantics elsewhere
Spare me your sentiments
We were never bound by more than blood
Not a single one of us
So move fast and dry your eyes
Soon this will all be over
Move fast and dry your eyes
Soon this will all be history
All be history

Sore eyes
All of the sore eyes
Piercing a hole
Through these walls of mine
Sore eyes
All of the sore eyes
Piercing a hole
Through these walls of mine
Sore eyes
All of the sore eyes
Piercing a hole
Through these walls of mine
For a why

No last words for you or the rest of mankind

A partial print is all I'm gonna leave behind
No last words for you or the rest of mankind
A partial print is all I'm gonna leave behind
No last words for you or the rest of mankind
A partial print is all I'm gonna leave behind
No last words for you or the rest of mankind
A partial print is all I'm gonna leave behind
A little something to remember me by
A partial print is all I'm leaving behind
A little something to remember me

Bye