

So Demure

Tiger Lou

Let this hurricane of defence
Welcome you with open arms so dense
Do you ever contemplate?
Whatever happened to your fate

Let this waterwork of arrogance
Shower down on all of us
Why are you so tense?
I never would've taken you
for a friend of this state

I am latent, present but not visible
As of yet but please do
Crawl in here for a day or two
And I promise to be

So demure
After this we can go back no more

Let these wings over carry you
Levitating limbo known by so few
But never would have taken you
For a friend of this state

I am latent, present but not visible
As of yet but please do
Crawl in here for a day or two
And I promise to be

I am latent, present but not visible
As of yet but please do
Crawl in here for a day or two
And I promise to be

So demure
After this we can go back no more

I am what you call
Present but not visible

Present but not visible
Pull yourself together
