

The Final And Last Boarding Call

Tiger Lou

I'll meet you out somewhere in town someplace nice where no one will frown it's been a year since the last time we met out here for some gin and lime hey you wake up wake up this is the final and last boarding call from it all

I got your post cards they all look the same from stupid places with long stupid names whenever you read them they don't say a thing it's weird how much joy they bring