

The Less You Have To Carry

Tiger Lou

Something in me
Has ceased to be
It ruptured irrevocably
Thank god it's internally

I feel as of late
That my trait
Is mainly to degenerate
Yours is to irritate

Leave me behind
Well confined
You'll finally get to unwind
If you should be so inclined

They say
The more you give
The less you have to carry

Well I'm weightlessly caught
In between this notion and
Something else entirely
Obviously

They say
The more you give
The less you have to carry
They say
The more you lead
The less you have to follow

Well I'm weightlessly caught
In between this notion and
Something else entirely
I am weightlessly caught
Somewhere in between this
And some dream

A partial print is all
I'm leaving behind
A little something to
Remember me by

A partial print is all
I'm leaving behind
A little something to
