

I Can't See You

Tim Buckley

Summer princess, midnight maiden
When I first saw you, I just breathed
Into your smile my past went fadin'
Inside your voice, my mind was sheathed in lost lagoon
We waited, wadin' along the streets
We went paradin', never looking back to where we'd been

Autumn temptress, sundown angel
Inside your blood you aren't so young
I came to you a loving vandal
And heard your heart and touched your tongue
Day became a lighted candle, sky fell down
Beneath your sandal in your eye, I began to spin

Winter harlot, moon time lover
I can't speak when I feel this way
Don't keep your feelings undercover
Tell me what you want today
Don't leave me in the air to hover, sing it out
Don't make me suffer, don't be ashamed, love is no sin

Springtime woman, sunrise girl
I am hiding behind the sea
Trick or treat, the Halloween world
Hide and seek but you can't catch me
I won't chase you until you hurl your wing to me
And make me twirl, you're alive underneath my skin
