

Soon It Will Be

Time Again

Another day, another person telling lies
Another day, another victim sadly dies
Another day, another person falls apart
Another day, another victim's broken heart

And soon we'll see these they're just memories
These broken views making headlines
Try to focus before you forget
It's all that you have as you walk through it

Soon it will be, soon it will be
Soon you will see, it's just a memory
Soon it will be, soon it will be
Soon you will see, it's just a memory

Another day, another person goes to jail
Another day, another victim goes to hell
Another day, another person comes to town
Another day, another victim gets shot down

And it's a feeling of loss that you shake
Don't forget all the things that you have at stake
And don't bother to ask me no questions
'Cause even if I know, you won't get no confession

Soon it will be, soon it will be
Soon you will see, it's just a memory
Soon it will be, soon it will be
Soon you will see, it's just a memory
