

Above and Beyond

Time Requiem

Meant to be a warrior freezing all the spirits of life
Last to see the walking heroes fading in the night
I will not ever leave you a shadow of fear Still believe in anger and in pain I've seen light.

This is not how to make a thunder
Can be lost in the sky
I can't believe what it feels like under
it is lost in my way.

Asking you to send me pieces of your silver and gold Capturing your emptiness your battle and your war.

I will live forever ever and more you cannot be the one Asking me these questions that will take you to my grave.

This is not how to make a thunder
Can be lost in the sky
I can't believe what it feels like under
it is lost in my way.

To many people the place is burning
When you dazzle the floor
Around a piece made of gold and silver Can I ask you why?

Sacredness is bridges to the night
No emptiness will ever be the same Shadows from a war
Shadows from my war.

Now I have the power to be cruel and make justice right Ever since the fire rises and the crimson sky Captured by the moonlight still I believe there is something to see I will be the last one heard for real when you are one.

This is not how to make a thunder
Can be lost in the sky
I can't believe what it feels like under
it is lost in my way.
