

Hope Remains

Times of Grace

Crushed by the weight of your sorrow,
There is no relapse,
To find the light in the darkness,
And we can't hold on.

But it's hidden from your face,
Sinking your form,
The path you should follow,
Breathe it's place,
Surrender yourself to the hopes of tomorrow,
Surrender!

And it's always been your spirit,
This. World. Is. Yours!

Hold on to faith, hold on to love,
Hold on to who you were.
You're not alone, don't lose sight
We will rise above.
Love!
We are the breathe of life.
Love!
Our hope remains.

If we start to break, I think we might. We musn't break. For generations to come, as we break our durations aside!

Look in my eyes! When with passion!
Every spirit undevote our durations aside!

We are the progress,
Undefeated!
Carve your name in the face of today,
It burns!

Hold on to faith, hold on to love
Hold on to who you were.
You're not alone, don't lose sight
We will rise above.
Love!
We are the breathe of life.
Love!
Our hope remains.
Love!
We are the breathe of life.
Love!
Our hope remains.

Hold on to faith, hold on to love.
You're not alone, don't lose hope.
Our hope remains.
