

Living a Lifetime Together

Tina Arena

Gay paris, dangerous place
if you plan on staying free falling in love
is not logical to me no matter how there's something in the air that you can't avoid grieving sangarine- where lovers meet let history repeat
you and me
by that picture barbonee making a promise that all new lovers say this is forever

maybe a thing of the past loving can go on forever passion's a flower you know it won't last
trapped in a world going fast it's like a night in december why can't tomorrow just be like today?
me and you
danced to the music few could listen to victims of some romantic dejavu
meant to be for one another
