

Patchwork Heart

Tina Arena

I'm afraid I'll always love you
Even if we're falling apart
This love is coming undone
You're the only one who can mend
My patchwork heart

Staring at a photograph of you
Trying to comprehend what we went through
I could forgive
I could forget
Sometimes redemption's what you let inside

I'm afraid I'll always love you
Even if we're falling apart
This love is coming undone
You're the only one who can mend
My patchwork heart

Every battle someone has to lose
Maybe it's not true but it's my point of view
I can forgive, I can even forget
I will give you redemption if you let Me inside

I'm afraid I'll always love you
Even if we're falling apart
This love is coming undone
You're the only one who can mend
My patchwork heart

I'm afraid I'll always love you
Even if we're falling apart
This love is coming undone
You're the only one who can mend
My patchwork heart

I'm afraid I'll always love you
Even if we're falling apart
This love is coming undone
You're the only one who can mend
My patchwork heart
