Never thought it be like this
It all fell down in pieces
Ripping those puzzles apart
Surviving on broken hearts
We were young and we didn't know
The kaleidoscope lost its colour
It all turned into grey
We started moving in separate ways

Ive been holding on
Just to let go
Turn a blind eye not sure I wanna know
Clear the slate, go back to before
Illuminate and reset all

How the times run so fast
Amazed its all in the past
I'm a million miles from there
Thinking of this wear and tear
My brain is so fatigued
Avoiding all that surrounds me
Sometimes I forget to breathe
And there's the moment we stop believing

Ive been holding on
Just to let go
Turn a blind eye not sure I wanna know
Clear the slate, go back to before
Illuminate and reset all

Holding on
Just let go
Open eyes, reset all
Clear the slate, go back to before
Illuminate and reset all
