

Take Me Apart

Tina Arena

Hey, thanks a lot for invading my life
With your sweet earth smell and those soulful eyes
That see into mine to where I hide
Lost in space it gets lonely sometimes

You crack me up, I'm starting to splinter
The mother ship is coming apart
There's been a malfunction, I need some attention
Oh, please fix this clunk in my heart

Now I know how much you really want to
I want you but you hesitate, don't you?

Take me apart, dismantle my heart
Steal my love, see if I care
Take me apart here in the dark
Kiss by kiss, finish what you start
Though I'll never be the same, it's okay, take me apart

Hey, thanks a lot, I'm feeling better
I feel like swimming 'round the universe
You inflate my soul, you got me going
Warp seventh heaven when you touch me there

Now I know how much you really want to
I want you but you hesitate, don't you?

Take me apart, dismantle my heart
Steal my love, see if I care
Take me apart here in the dark
Kiss by kiss, finish what you start
Though I'll never be the same, it's okay, take me apart

Take me apart, dismantle my heart
Steal my love, see if I care
Take me apart here in the dark
Kiss by kiss, finish what you start
Though I'll never be the same, it's okay, take me apart
