

Transparency

Tina Arena

Miss all these emotions
Distorted and devoted
Fractured is a current state of pain
Love me and delight me
Don't ever deny me
Confusion going on inside my head

Looking at these pictures
Who would have predicted
Who I am, I hardly recognise
Now that I've awakened
I cannot be mistaken
Free myself to see with clearer eyes

It's just your transparency
It's taken over me
It's just your transparency
It's taken all of me
But my eyes can see right through

When you spoke I always listened
When you took you were forgiven
The way I see it I was just misled
Careful not to try me
'Cause I left the past behind me
Better days are lying up ahead

Where are all the saviours?
The advisors, and the takers?
Always there, but never to be found
And now that I am older,
I will not grow colder
You can try and push,
But I will stand my ground

It's just your transparency
It's taken over me
It's just your transparency
It's taken all of me
But my eyes can see right through

It's just your transparency
It's taken over me
It's taken all of me
It's taken over me
Its just your transparency
But my eyes can see right through
See right through you
I can see you
I can see you
ooooohhhh