

The Fool Is Me

Tina Cousins

I guess the fool is me, I just couldn't see
What you had in mind
i wear a cloak of shame, I can't explain
Why I believed your lies
You may have looked like an angel, enough for me
But the devil gave you your words
'cause you took all I gave you
Took it with ease
And left me with your curse

You're a mellownoma and you burn So sweetly, so deeply you hurt
Why are people never who they seem
So sweetly, so cheaply, the fool is me

My judgement fails, or so it seems
You burned me to the bone
Thought that was safe, now I'm a hopeless case Hopelessly alone
You may have looked like an angel, enough for me
But the devil gave you your words
Took it with ease
And left me with your curse

You're a mellownoma and you burn
So sweetly, so deeply you hurt
Why are people never who they seem
So sweetly, so cheaply, the fool is me
