

Get To Know You

Tina Dico

I didn't come to solve a case
To step in someone else's place
To mold you in to someone else
To save you from yourself

I didn't come to steal your thoughts
To analyze you, find your faults
I didn't come to change your mind
And turn your eyes blind

I've never picked your brains for any answers
There's nothing here I feel we need to solve
I've never pushed to break through your defences
That's not why I'm here with you at all

Stranger, I just came to get to know you
Just to sit next to you for a bit
Stranger, I just came to get to know you
Wouldn't it be a shame if I never did?

I didn't come to change your past
To cut us in to equal halves
To mold you in to someone new
Who thinks like I do

I didn't come to take control
To eat your heart out, kill your soul
I didn't come to change your mind
And turn your eyes blind

I've never asked you questions 'bout tomorrow
Here and now is where I wanna stay
I've given you no rules or roads to follow
That's not why I'm sitting here today

Stranger, I just came to get to know you
Just to sit next to you for a bit
Stranger, I just came to get to know you
Wouldn't it be a shame if I never did?

Stranger, I just came to get to know you
See whatever hides under the lid
Stranger, I just came to get to know you
Wouldn't it be a shame if no-one never did?