

Someone You Love

Tina Dico

You came to me in peace
I gave you what you wanted but no more, it's just enough
And now I'm on my knees, have my mercy on my soul
I am here to return you love
I'm reaching to be found
Let anyone that trust in me be seen and be heard
And Lord if I have known
That love will be your punishment I would've kept my word

Is that what you do for someone you love?
You do it all for someone you love
Someone you love
You do it right for someone you love

You came to be out of nothing
Your beauty almost killed me and the [?] left me cold That's only a reflection as always in this life I never saw the image hole
And now the little I can give is all my love into a song, I'll never stop to sing
You've shown the wilted end and someday will face to face and I' ll be born again
Yes you'll be born again

For someone you love
You'll be born again someone you love, someone you love
Let just simply born again for someone you love, someone you lo ve
Let just simply born again for someone you love, someone you lo
ve
Yeah do it all for someone you love, someone you love
You'll be born again someone you love, someone you love
Let just simply born again for someone you love, someone you lo ve
