Before You Close Your Eyes

Tindersticks

Just as your eyes are closing There was something that I meant to say Like falling from my heart But I don't know how Before you close your eyes I don't know how

I never cry for our love I never cry I never cry for our love I never cry

There's no goodbye These hands have always lived through mine Now everything I touch I feel I don't know how Before you close your eyes I don't know how

I'm so cynical
It's in my face and
It's just the bird I caught
Leaves its taste hanging round round

Just as your eyes are closing There was something that I meant to say Like falling from my heart But I don't know how Before you close your eyes I don't know how

Never cry, never cry
