

Someone once told me
Goodbyes never come easy
I believed him as he believed
That he's not the only one
Who is suffering

You're always welcome back
I could use your lungs
I have been fighting asthma attacks
For so long

Saying the words I'll see you around
Resonates a pleasant sound
Saying the words I'll see you around
Left an awful taste in my mouth

I tried to call you
An answer back is all I need
Sometimes I wish I could join you
But I'm too scared to leave
I wish, I wish you'd react to when I say
That Minnesota is not that far away

Someone once told me
You are your own machine
And I will try not to self-destruct myself
With reoccurring dreams

Take some steps back
Get distracted
By evergreens and river streams
Evergreens and river streams
I wish, I wish you'd react to when I say
That Minnesota is not that far away

I am a cascade
Drowning in my own waves
Well maybe someday, yeah maybe someday
I will run away

I am a cascade
Drowning in my own waves
Well maybe someday
Well maybe someday
