

Dying Embers

To/Die/For

It's the hour of fading light embers of my life
save me from myself
you touched the fire
and took it out of me
the flame is gone for all eternity

Nothing can hurt me
i'm safe within your grace whatever comes our way
you will protect me

you gave me something more precious than this life

after all i still believe in life and blood relation i know i'm drained of both now it's all the same to me i'm safe in isolation surrounded by your love

with a silent whisper
you came from the dark
left me with splinters
of my broken heart
